Area of use

- As an anti-slip system on pitched roofs with inclines from 15° to 45° Attach shear supports to statically effective thrust bearings in the eaves area
- Calculation of the occurring shear forces is mandatory to dimension the statically effective thrust bearings

Specific properties

- Carriers slotted 40 mm deep every 250 mm to insert the sills
- Sills at the ends also slotted 40 mm to insert into bracket
- Centre distance of the carriers 1 m
- Max. shear load: per structurally effective abutment and carrier in flow direction = 6.9 kN
- Sill spacing
RP 15°-20° = 1,000 mm
RP 21°-30° = 500 mm
RP 31°-45° = 250 mm
- Material is not permanently UV stable. Material must be covered with substrate immediately after installation. No permanent outdoor storage.
